

J. Taylor, California Academy of Sciences

Common Name: Western Fence Lizard
Scientific Name: (Sceloporus occidentalis)

- 2 ¼ - 3 ¾ inches
- Scales keeled and pointed; black, gray or brown with blotched pattern; sides of belly blue; rear surfaces of legs yellow or orange
- Males:
 - Blue under throat; some dorsal scales bluish or greenish
- Females:
 - No blue or green on back; dark bars on back; blue markings below faint or absent
- Found in grassland, sparse chaparral, coastal sage scrub, woodland and pine forest